My name is Raegan and I'm a resident and homeowner in the Shire of Jerramungup. I am also the proud owner of Seachange, the boutique in Bremer Bay and have run a successful marketing and design business for 10 years.

I am especially passionate about small business and the opportunities it provides our local people to work within the community and to upskill for future growth.

I have a pragmatic approach to growth to ensure we retain the unique diversity that makes our region a great place to live, while ensuring we are understanding and addressing the challenges our community, businesses and visitors to the region are facing.

I am an advocate for strengthening the relationship and communication between our shire and residents and for improved community engagement and participation.

I feel incredibly proud and fortunate to be a resident within the Shire of Jerramungup and believe that with enough support, services and opportunities, all people in our region can thrive.
